The Earthwise Group Welcomes JetAlum as Organization's Newest Member

LIBERTY TOWNSHIP, OHIO, December 3, 2012 – The Earthwise Group, LLC, a national network of locally owned, independent manufacturers of windows and doors, is pleased to welcome JetAlum as the newest member of the organization. Based in Kansas City, Mo., JetAlum manufactures high-quality windows and doors for residential and commercial applications. The addition of JetAlum brings the total number of Earthwise manufacturing facilities to 15, with distribution covering the majority of the eastern half of the United States.

“We’re pleased to welcome JetAlum to our growing family,” said Mark Davis, executive director of The Earthwise Group, LLC. “The Earthwise Group is about strength in numbers, and we are confident that JetAlum will realize the benefits of being a part of our network of industry leaders. Our current members will benefit from the unique experience and expertise that the JetAlum team will bring to our organization, as well.”

“The Earthwise Group has already proven to be a great resource for our company,” said Jim White, co-owner of JetAlum. “From invaluable advice to a constant willingness to share experiences and information, we’ve been grateful for the support of the other group members.”

JetAlum manufactures windows for new construction and renovation projects. The company manufactures Earthwise Vinyl Windows which have earned the Good Housekeeping Seal of Approval. All of JetAlum’s windows are available with options including argon gas filled IG Units, Low-E glass and internal grid patterns. The company also manufactures custom-made storm windows, doors and screens. Additionally, JetAlum offers a variety of repair solutions for custom glass, insulated glass and screens.
